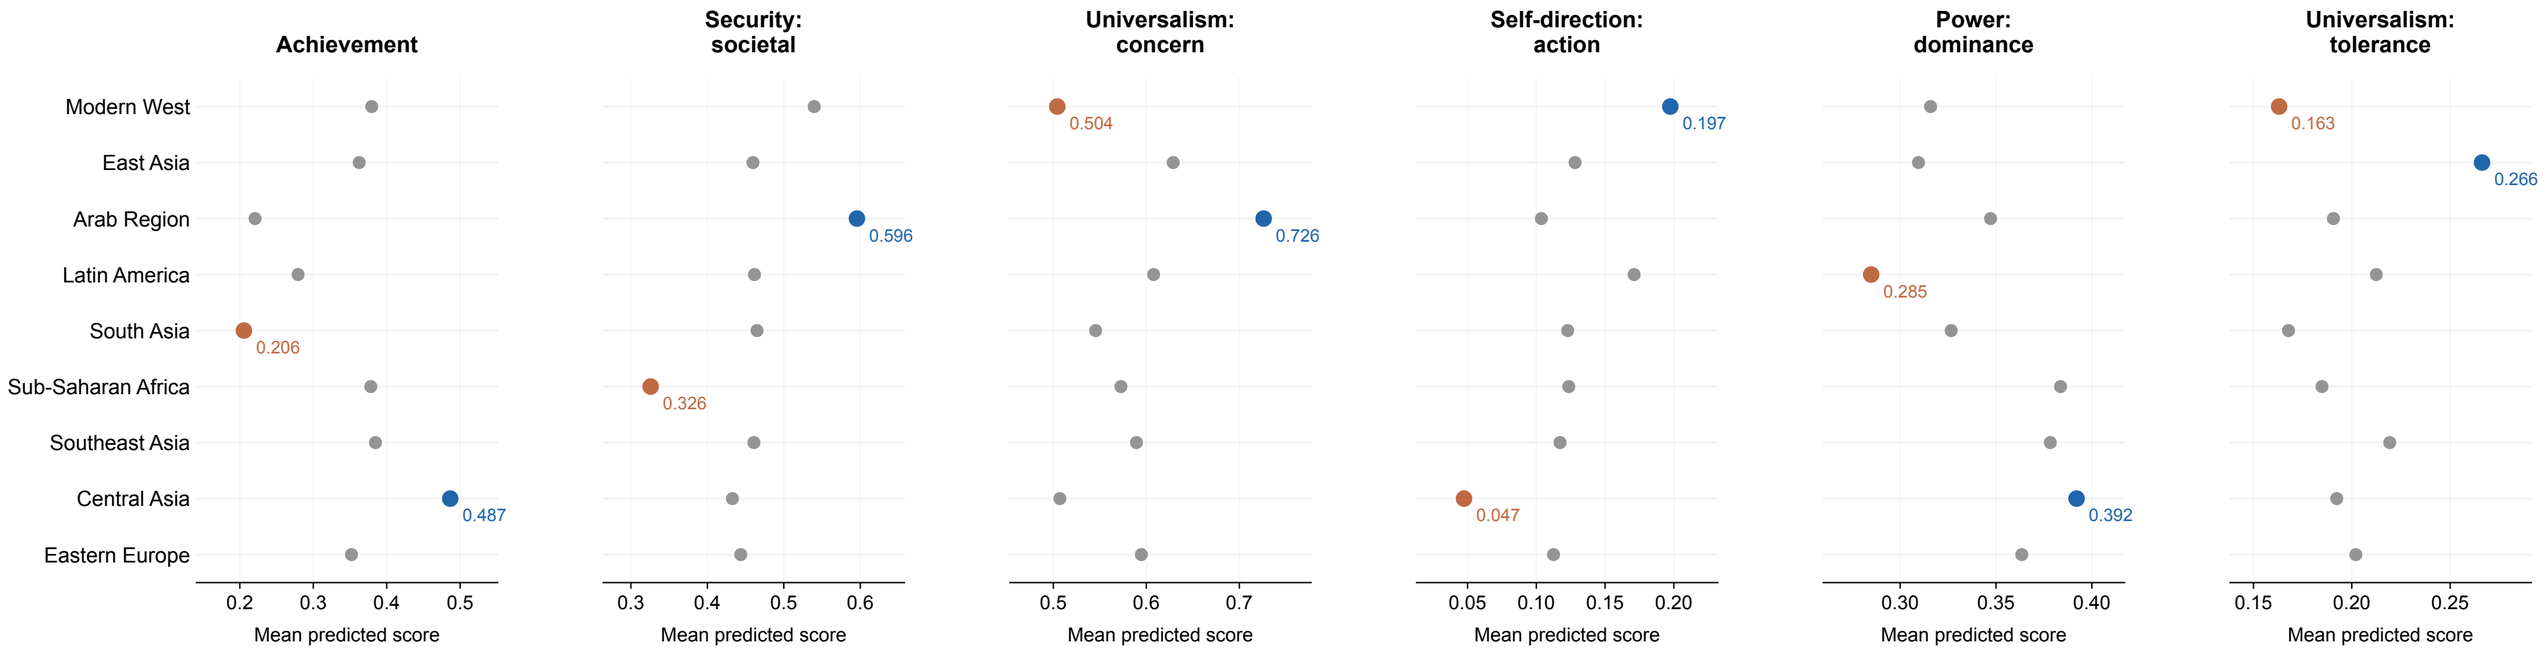
Regional Variation in Model-Predicted Human Values Within Institutional Self-Assertion Contexts



Note. Each point represents the equal-weighted mean of two selected countries' model-predicted human-value scores within Institutional Self-Assertion-matched sentences.
Blue indicates the highest regional case-pair mean within each value category; orange indicates the lowest; gray indicates the remaining regional case pairs. Horizontal scales differ across value categories.